Welcome

The past weeks have been truly inspiring as we watched students in Years 10, 11, and 13 demonstrate remarkable resilience during their exams and mock exams. Celebrating the achievements of our Year 11 and Year 13 students with parents and staff at the proms has been a highlight, marking these important milestones in their academic journeys.

Our students have continued to embrace the new higher standards, and it is a joy to see so many proud to be part of 'The Huxlow Way'. We have much to look forward to in the coming weeks, including welcoming year 6 students for their transition visits this week, end-of-year sports events and celebrations for all. We are also excited to recognise and reward so many of our students, who consistently demonstrate our values of Ambition, Respect and Pride in all that they do.

I wanted to take the opportunity to thank the majority of parents and supporters in the community who are championing all we are doing at Huxlow. Our children get one chance at their education and I pride myself on working alongside you to ensure that each child will have the very best provision through our new high expectations and ways of working. Thank you to the many parents I have spoken to, emailed or met in person, your support is paramount in helping us drive forward.

I hope you enjoy reading more about Huxlow events as well as learning a little more about life at Huxlow this term in this newsletter.

PREMADE

Teaching and learning - As we reach the end of the year, I wanted to share our learning sequence at Huxlow Academy. We have devised this sequence from best practices around effective learning, drawing from evidence based research and cognitive science. We call our sequence PREMADE. Each letter denotes a stage in our sequencing.

ASPIRE HIGHER

On Friday 21st June, a group of Year 7 students put their teamwork skills to the test and experienced a mobile escape room. Some were successful in finding the golden treasure. More importantly, this exercise was part of our Aspire Higher project work that a group of Year 7 students had been involved with earlier on in the year. #UON #AspireHigher #Opportunitiesforeveryone
